Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/808,392	Applicant(s) FUJITA ET AL.
	Examiner Sarvesh J. Nadkarni	Art Unit 2629

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 24 and 35, drawn to FIGs. 7A-7C, classified in class 345, subclass 156.
 - II. Claims 1-10, drawn to FIGs. 1, 10, classified in class 715, subclass 700, 733 and/or 738.
 - III. Claims 11-13, 14-23, and 25-34, drawn to FIGs. 5, 6, 8, 11, 12 classified in class 709, subclass 217.
2. Inventions III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group III relates to a method and apparatus of transmitting data over a network whereas Group II is directed to a switch combining a plurality of terminals; Group III does not require Group II to function. Group III can function independently without a plurality of terminals and need not require switching between said terminals. The subcombination has separate utility such as networking among several computers.
3. Inventions III and I are related as combination and subcombination. The combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group III is directed to a method and apparatus of transmitting data over a network whereas Group I relates to displaying the information transmitted; Group III can function independent of Group I. The subcombination has separate utility such as displaying information transferred over a network.

4. Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. The combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group II is directed to a switching device for selecting among a plurality of networked terminals whereas Group I is related to displaying transmitted networked information; Group II can function independently of Group I and need not display information to function. The subcombination has separate utility such as displaying information transferred over a network.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02) and a separate status in the art in view of their different classification,, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.
